DISABLED ACCESS:

There is disabled access to Innospace at ground level, but The Carbon Literacy Project's office is on the first floor without lift access. Please drop us a line in advance and we will make sure any meeting space is at ground level. There are both disabled and metered parking spaces on Chester Street, directly outside the building

ON FOOT, BY BUS, METRO and TRAIN:

We are a 5 minute walk from Manchester Oxford Road train station, 10 minutes' walk from St Peter's Square and Deansgate Metro stations and a 15 minute walk from Piccadilly Gardens and Piccadilly Station.

We are a minute's walk from the nearest bus stops on Oxford Road, Europe's busiest bus corridor, served by many different routes. The free Metroshuttle bus (No. 2) also stops nearby.

BY BICYCLE:

There are bike parking facilities opposite our front door and outside the John Dalton building which is next door to us, or in the streets surrounding the building. Unfortunately, there is no bike parking within Innospace, so please lock your bike securely.

BY MOTOR VEHICLE:

There is ample meter-parking on Chester Street itself, and longer term parking at a number of locations off Oxford Road and nearby. For up to date information visit: www.manchester.gov.uk/parking. Please be aware of the one-way systems and extensive rolling construction closures going on in Manchester city centre however!

ON ARRIVAL:

If the building reception is not staffed, please give us a phone-call and we'll come down to meet you.
